

An Apology

I am ashamed to say that this is the first blog we have written since our Christmas Newsletter last year! However, it is for a good reason - we have had a bumper year of welcoming guests new and old and of further upgrading Blaencwm Cottages. This time it was the cottages who saw the most change - especially Y Frenni Fawr (see page 2 for details).

Winter arrived in Style

After a glorious spring and an equally impressive summer, we were all ready for a Welsh Winter, but it still came as a bit of a surprise when 10 inches of snow fell on Blaencwm in November. The picture above shows a glorious snowy sunrise from our house and the views around the pond and courtyard were equally stunning.

Frenni gets an En-suite

We take our customer feedback very seriously and many of our guests had mentioned that it was a shame that Y Frenni Fawr only had one bathroom. Say no more! We looked at the options and came up with an ingenious layout change downstairs that means that the double bedroom has been relocated across the hall and now has a fabulous en-suite shower room.

Bathroom Glow-up

We even found time to give the main bathrooms in both cottages a bit of an upgrade too !

The Outside

The glorious summer also gave us a chance to further improve our outdoor space, with a new patio area in the orchard and another overlooking the pond, as well as a giant games area where the old shed used to be. Of course, our Nordic BBQ hut is as popular as ever, so all in all a much lovelier space to be year round.

So as we head into our 5th year at Blaencwm (can you believe that?), we just wanted to wish all your friends and family a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We look forward to seeing as many of you as possible next year – but book early – with the Eisteddfod happening just along the road from us in August, the calendar is filling up fast !
